The Sun will Rise Again - P. Sarangi 2020-02-18

This book titled 'THE SUN WILL RISE AGAIN' is aimed at inspiring millions of those little buds who are forced to terminate their journey half way, being unable to bear with a few failures. All their inherent skill, talent and aspiration for a better tomorrow, get buried in course of time. Accepting this to be the destiny's cruel decision, they are made to move from door to door with a begging bowl, desperately in search of a faint ray of HOPE—'will the fortune ever smile on us?' The high sounding speeches of some of the selfclaimed Servants of the people on different occasions like Independence Day, Children Day, Army Day and Teachers' Day. . , end up with some promises and assurances—far from reality. Dadaji's dream to change their life, his dedicated & determined efforts to transform his vision to a reality, could instil self confidence among many children, To add to this, Ranimaa's untiring people—friendly activities, handling critical issues fearlessly, changed the lives of Chumki, Jaggu, Lala, Kanha Chahawalla, Sheela, Lakshmi, Chitrasen. . . .and many others, as written in this book. This book containing twenty essays in brief and lucid form, touches various issues we come across, like—protecting the environment, care of children and elderly persons at home, stress management in work place, exploitation of the innocents in the name of religion and faith, providing the basic needs to all—like clean water, shelter, health care, education, safety, and. . . I shall be very happy if the readers take a little trouble to send their valuable suggestions for upgrading the book in the next edition.

Sir Henry Wrenfordsley - John Michael Bennett 2004

Of all Chief Justices in Australia in the 19th century none so demeaned the office as did Sir Henry Wrenfordsley, second Chief Justice of Western Australia. Moving from an indifferent practice as a Dublin solicitor to a very insecure career as an English barrister, Wrenfordsley won notice for his interest in Conservative politics, twice standing unsuccessfully for Parliament. An able public speaker and a companionable guest at gentlemen's clubs, he obtained a colonial judicial appointment through patronage. He served in Mauritius before being appointed Chief Justice of Western Australia and then of Fiji. He acted as a judge in Tasmania and Victoria and finally was Chief Justice of the Leeward Islands. In every office he collided with colonial administrators and fellow lawyers and was in constant dispute with the Colonial Office. A weak lawyer, he was ridiculed as a "journeyman judge" and a "gallery judge" who turned the court into a theatre. His public career was marked by every bad judicial quality - incompetence, duplicity, interference in politics, laziness, uncontrollable temper, chronic insolvency, and overwhelming self-importance, among them. The Western Australian State Set of Lives of Australian Chief Justices, which includes, Sir Archibald Burt, Sir Henry Wrenfordsley and Sir Alexander Onslow is available for $130.00 - to order the WA State Set, click here.
