Liberalism -

This is Mises's classic statement in defense of a free society, one of the last statements of the old liberal school and a text from which we can continue to learn. It has been the conscience of a global movement for liberty for 80 years. This edition, from the Mises Institute, features a new foreword by Thomas Woods. It first appeared in 1927, as a followup to both his devastating 1922 book showing that socialism would fail, and his 1926 book on interventionism. It was written to address the burning question: if not socialism, and if not fascism or interventionism, what form of social arrangements are most conducive to human flourishing? Mises's answer is summed up in the title, by which he meant classical liberalism. Mises did more than restate classical doctrine. He gave a thoroughly modern defense of freedom, one that corrected the errors of the old liberal school by rooting the idea of liberty in the institution of private property (a subject on which the classical school was sometimes unclear). Here is the grand contribution of this volume. "The program of liberalism, therefore, if condensed into a single word, would have to read: property, that is, private ownership of the means of production... All the other demands of liberalism result from this fundamental demand." But there are other insights too. He shows that political decentralization and secession are the best means to peace and political liberty. As for religion, he recommends the complete separation of church and state. On immigration, he favors the freedom of movement. On culture, he praised the political virtue of tolerance. On education: state involvement must end, and completely. He deals frankly with the nationalities problem, and provides a stirring defense of rationalism as the essential foundation of liberal political order. He discusses political strategy, and the relationship of liberalism to special-interest politics. In some ways, this is the most political of Mises's treatises, and also one of the most inspiring books ever written on the idea of liberty. It remains the book that can set the world on fire for freedom, which is probably why it has been translated into more than a dozen languages.

The Decline of Eastern Christianity Under Islam -

Bat Ye'or 1996

In this study, Bat Ye'or gives an analysis of the dogma and strategies of jihad, offering a vast panorama of the history of the Jews and Christians under the rule of Islam. A pioneer in a virgin field of research for which she has coined the term dhimmitude, the author has included a documentary section illuminating the process of Eastern Christianity's Islamization. In two waves of Islamic expansion, the Christian and Jewish populations of the Mediterranean regions and Mesopotamia, who had developed the most prestigious civilizations, were conquered by jihad. Millions of Christians from Spain, Egypt, Syria, Greece, and Armenia; Latins and Slavs from southern and central Europe; as well as Jews, were henceforth governed by the shari'a (Islamic law). A knowledge of this historical background is essential in order to understand contemporary events."

Pierre Jules Theophile Gautier (1811-1872) est un poète, romancier, peintre et critique d'art français. Lecteur avide, il a cinq ans lorsqu'il commence à lire. Sa grande passion est Robinson Crusoe. En 1820, à l'âge de huit ans, il fait un bref séjour en tant que pensionnaire au lycée Louis-le-Grand. Tout en menant "toutes les grandes campagnes romantiques," il écrit un premier recueil de vers, dont son père finance la publication. Il travaille également pour le magazine de Charles Malo, La France Littéraire, et pour le quotidien d'Émile de Girardin, La Presse. Dans ce journal, Gautier se charge d'abord de la critique d'art. On évalue à plus de deux mille le nombre des feuilletons et articles qu'il aurait rédigés pour ce journal. Ainsi en 1838 paraît La Comédie de la Mort, un recueil de poèmes assez différent des précédents ou, sous l'influence de Shakespeare, Goethe et Dante, Gautier sculpte avec vigueur le spectre de la Mort. En 1839, Gautier cède à la tentation du théâtre qu'il admire depuis toujours et écrit Une Larme du Diable puis Le Tricorne Enchanté et Pierrot Posthume.

distance trails. The GR5 makes its way through the Alps from the shores of Lac Léman at Geneva to the Mediterranean at Nice. A route of 674km (420 miles), it can be trekked in a month, or split over a series of summer trips. The GR5 is well within the reach of fit and moderately experienced walkers and backpackers. There is good signposting and waymarking, and accommodation, food and drink are all available at regular intervals. The paths and tracks are generally well graded, while steep climbs are tackled on zigzag paths, so the overall gradient is not so severe. Every summer, thousands of walkers embark on this trek. This guidebook also describes some scenic variant routes, including the stunning GR55 through the Vanoise National Park and the delightful GR52 that crosses the Mercantour National Park. Full descriptions and maps are provided for these alternatives. The book includes daily stages, timings, ascents and descents, full-colour mapping and gradient profiles, alongside information about facilities and services along the route. The result is an ideal companion to planning and completing your trek. Two further Cicerone guidebooks cover the remaining sections of the GR5; 'The GR5 Trail - Vosges and Jura', and 'The GR5 Trail - Benelux and Lorraine' which together cover the route from Lac Léman to the Hoek Van Holland.

Tourism Market Trends - 2002

This is one of a series of six reports by the World Tourism Organization which consider trends in the global tourism market. This report provides an overview of tourism trends worldwide in 2001 which complements the five regional volumes in the series. It includes data for regional highlights; arrivals; receipts; origin and destination; accommodation; and long-term forecasts. The focus is on inbound tourism. The report also contains in-depth analysis of three tourism topics: the international meetings market; a case study of activities to promote Hong Kong as a convention and corporate events destination; and ecotourism. The statistics have been supplied by the individual countries and comparability is not assured due to variations in data collection methods. The report notes that 2001 was the worst year for tourism in living memory, due to the downturn in the world economy and the events of 11 September.
