

ppic statewide survey californians and their government web oct 26 2022 key findings california voters have now received their mail ballots and the november 8 general election has entered its final stage amid rising prices and economic uncertainty as well as deep partisan divisions over social and political issues californians are processing a great deal of information to help them choose state constitutional