Les Possédées de Morzine Livre 2 - L'enquête historique - Jean-Christophe RICHARD 2016-11-15

En 1857 survint à Morzine une épidémie de faits étranges que les prêtres et le médecin local qualifièrent de surnaturels. Des femmes souffraient de violentes crises convulsives et hallucinatoires pendant lesquelles elles se débattaient, vociféraient et blasphémaient. Elles étaient comme possédées du diable. On exorcisa alors sans modération. Le phénomène s'amplifia à tel point que l'Administration finit par s'en inquiéter et envoya des médecins de la ville. Ils posèrent leurs diagnostics et prirent des mesures thérapeutiques. L'épidémie continua de plus belle et l'on compta jusqu'à 200 possédées. L'apothéose fut atteinte lors de la visite de l'évêque en 1864. Il écrivit « J'ai eu la douleur d'être le témoin d'un spectacle déchirant, et d'une scène qui ne saurait être comparée qu'à celle de l'enfer. » Que s'est-il réellement passé ? Jean-Christophe Richard, avec la collaboration de spécialistes, a conduit une recherche historique. À l'aide de témoignages de l'époque et de documents inédits, il examine toutes les hypothèses envisageables pour analyser ces faits. Vous mènerez avec lui une enquête exhaustive et passionnante qui vous permettra de vous forger votre propre conviction. Ce livre est l'enquête complétant le Livre 1 - Recueil de documents anciens, du même auteur. Lancette française - 1877

A Dictionary of Post-Classical Yemeni Arabic - Moshe Piamenta
1990-05-01

This publication is a most comprehensive, richly-documented dictionary which presents, in local Arabic dialects and in mostly assimilated Judaeo-Yemeni dialects, the natural, geo-political, economic, and socio-cultural history of Muslim Yemen. It is also an account of the religious inter- and intra-socio-cultural and economic everyday life of the ancient Jewish communities who lived as dhimm's under Muslim rule until their mass emigration to Israel in 1948, leaving behind 5,000 co-religionists. The dictionary is based on about 300 printed and ms sources painstakingly consulted in various libraries all over the world, and many Yemeni language informants now residing in Israel. The text of every single item is adduced, mostly in context, with reference to ms., or book, page, line, or note, and to classical and foreign etymologies. Particular attention has been paid to the dictionaries of Lane and Dozy. This is a milestone in Arabic lexicography, complementing Dozy's "Supplement aux dictionnaires arabes," and opening up a complete new area sorely missing in the field of Arabic Studies.

Loyalty and Disloyalty - Dag Heward-Mills 2006

Though a primary requirement of God for leaders, very little has been written on this subject. In this book, Dag Heward-Mills outlines very important principles with the intention of increasing the stability of churches. So relevant and practical is the content of this book that it has become an indispensable tool for many church leaders.

Narratives of fear and safety - Kaisa Kaukiainen 2020-09-01

The essays in this edited volume, written in English and French, tackle the intriguing problems of fear and safety by analysing their various meanings and manifestations in literature and other narrative media. The articles bring forth new, cross-cultural interpretations on fear and safety through examining what kinds of genre-specific means of world-making narratives use to express these two affectivities. The articles also show how important it is to study these themes in order to understand challenges in times of global threats, such as the climate crisis. The main themes of the book are approached from various theoretical perspectives as related to their literary and cultural representations. Recent trends in research, such as affect and risk theory, serve as the basis for the discussion. The articles in the volume also draw from disciplines such as gender studies and trauma studies to examine the threats posed by collective fears and aggression on individuals' lives and propose ways of coping with fear. These themes are addressed also in articles analysing new adaptations of old myths that retell stories of the past. Many of the articles in the volume discuss apocalyptic and dystopian narratives that currently permeate the entire cultural landscape. Dystopian narratives do not only deal with future threats, such as totalitarianism, technocracy, or environmental disasters, but also suggest alternative ways of being and new hopes in the form of political resistance.

The Equality of the Human Races - Joseph-Anténor Firmin 2002

"This is the first paperback edition of the only English-language translation of the Haitian scholar Antnor Firmin's The Equality of the Human Races, a foundational text in critical anthropology first published in 1885 when anthropology was just emerging as a specialized field of study. Marginalized for its "radical" position that the human races were equal, Firmin's lucid and persuasive treatise was decades ahead of its time. Arguing that the equality of the races could be demonstrated through a positivist scientific approach, Firmin challenged racist writings and the dominant views of the day. Translated by Asselin Charles and framed by Carolyn Fluehr-Lobban's substantial introduction, this rediscovered text is an important contribution to contemporary scholarship in anthropology, pan-African studies, and colonial and postcolonial studies."

The United Nations world water development report 2020 -

UNESCO World Water Assessment Programme 2020-03-23

The 2020 edition of the WWDR, titled 'Water and Climate Change' illustrates the critical linkages between water and climate change in the context of the broader sustainable development agenda. Supported by examples from across the world, it describes both the challenges and opportunities created by climate change, and provides potential responses - in terms of adaptation, mitigation and improved resilience - that can be undertaken by enhancing water resources management, attenuating water-related risks, and improving access to water supply and sanitation services for all in a sustainable manner. It addresses the interrelations between water, people, environment and economics in a changing climate, demonstrating how climate change can be a positive catalyst for improved water management, governance and financing to achieve a sustainable and prosperous world for all. The report provides a fact-based, water-focused contribution to the knowledge base on climate change. It is complementary to existing scientific assessments and designed to support international political frameworks, with the goals of helping the water community tackle the challenges of climate change, and informing the climate change community about the opportunities that improved water management offers in terms of adaptation and mitigation.

Pentecostal Exorcism - Opoku Onyinah 2019-05-21

"Witchcraft" and exorcism have long been dominant features of life in African cultures. This unique book provides a thorough, field research-based description and analysis of a specifically Pentecostal Christian response to these phenomena within the Akan culture of Ghana, using interdisciplinary studies with a theological focus. In order to develop a properly safeguarded ministry of exorcism in an African context, the author examines contextualisation and suggests the integration into African Christianity of divinatory consultation, which has strong resonances with the biblical concept of prayer.
