Lockdown Secrets - Eleanor Tattersfield 2021-10-07

A compelling collection of anonymous postcards sent during lockdown, revealing hilarious, salacious, relatable and sometimes heartbreaking secret confessions. In the thick of the 2021 coronavirus lockdown, designer and shopowner Eleanor Tattersfield put out a call on Instagram: 'I'll send you a postcard, you send me a secret'. Lockdown Secrets is an astonishing record of what happened next. Postcards poured in, some beautifully decorated, some simply handwritten, but each one anonymously sharing a very personal confession. They came from people of all ages and all walks of life, including some celebrities. Prominent themes began to emerge: relationships, sex, masturbation, food, rebellion, loneliness and, surprisingly, a lot of love for lockdown itself. This beautiful book brings together the best of the postcards Eleanor received, and all human life is here: furtive infidelities, bad behaviour in the local bakery, sneaking off for baths during a busy homeschooling schedule, rediscovered marital bliss, and, occasionally, poignant moments of sadness and despair. We've all been through the lockdown experience, and every reader will find something to relate to in this fascinating collection, a perfect snapshot of an extraordinary time.

How to build your brand with Instagram images - Mary O'Brian 2022-03-09

In record time, Instagram has been able to absolutely explode into one of the most popular and frequently visited social media networks on the planet. Even before being purchased by Facebook, Instagram had close to 1 billion users logging into its social media network every single month - with hundreds and hundreds of millions of users logging in every single day. On top of that, Instagram was able to cultivate a truly active social media platform in a way that many of the other social media services haven't been able to. People continue to log into Facebook, but aren't anywhere near as active on the platform as they used to be. For every individual photograph posted to Facebook, for example, about 9000 likes will land - compared to 52,000 likes and 315 comments on Instagram for the EXACT same image. We're talking about game changing stuff here, especially when it comes to marketing and advertising in the digital world today. Honestly, you'd have to be at least a little bit crazy not to leverage everything that Instagram has to offer as far as marketing and advertising opportunities are concerned. Instagram is the key to numerous online marketing empires, and it can be an effective tool to help you build your business and the financial future you've always dreamed of as well. At the same time, you have to be really smart and really savvy about how you go about making the most of Instagram. Instagram Secrets - Alexander Vinci 2021-09-04

Do you want to know how Instagram really works and what mindset you must have to succeed in this platform? If you just starting reading through this guide and are thinking that your business isn't an eCommerce business and so Instagram isn't the place for you, think again. Remember, the key proposition that Instagram brings is visualization. Consider these examples: 1. You're a real estate agent and want to highlight the newest mountain home that you have on the market 2. You are a world-class hospital that just released a new mother's ward with beautiful birthing and stay suites with a spa-like feel 3. You're a restaurant owner and want to highlight your savory and mouthwatering specials each week The above examples are all situations where nothing is actually being transacted online, but the business is building brand awareness and drumming up interest so that the consumer will visit their website, or pick up the phone, to learn more. The mysterious Instagram algorithm While we'll never know exactly how Instagram has weighted the various data points that they put into their algorithm, we do know that Instagram's back-end technology now focuses on relevancy, serving up the posts that are most likely to relate to certain users based on their activity on the site. So, every time a user clicks through a post, or spends a certain amount of time looking at a certain influencer, Instagram is capturing that data in some way, and building it into their engine to ensure that posts that users won't care about are less likely to show up in their feed. We do know, however, that Instagram is looking at the following:

- Timely content - This is all about recency, meaning if a user hasn't logged in for a while, they won't have to scroll through outdated (and no longer relevant) posts. They'll be shown timely content that matters to them.
- Interest - This is really the secret sauce, as Instagram is paying attention, and will serve content that it believes the user will be interested in.
- Relationships - Instagram knows what photos users tag, and where they comment. So, if a user has interacted in some way with certain brands in the past, they are far more likely to be served content from that brand, or similar brands, in the future. For marketers, this is a great thing. It means that as Instagram learns more about your brand, your posts and advertisements are more likely to get in front of your niche, or target audience. A few notes about Instagram Shopping With the release of Instagram Shopping in late 2016, Instagram literally turned their platform into an online marketplace. While it is still a common practice to include website links to your business site, and even to a product page, now it is possible to allow the customer to transact directly on the Instagram platform. For businesses that want to enable the Shopping capability, they need to meet the following requirements:

- You must have an Instagram business profile
- That business profile needs to be connected to a Facebook catalog
- Your company's registered headquarters location must be located in one of the Instagram approved countries
- Items for sale must be physical goods that comply with the trading guideline and terms of use set forth by Instagram

As this Instagram Marketing Guide is intended as a resource for those getting started with Instagram marketing, we will not be providing a deep dive of the Instagram Shopping capability. Here is a Preview of What You Will Get:

Instagram has stood the test of time and is now one of the most popular social networking platforms today. So, if your brand isn't already on Instagram, then there is no time like the present to get started. Instagram has been around for a while, but not a lot of people know how to make the most of its features. The creators of this platform keep introducing new features along with changes to the algorithm. So, it is quintessential that you stay on top of all the updates. A combination of all these factors will ensure that your brand makes the most of all that Instagram has to offer. You will want to make sure that whatever strategy you start to use on Instagram is going to keep the focus on the brand that you have built and how that brand sees the world. Instagram is great for sharing videos and photos so make sure that when you connect the business with your followers, make sure that it stays consistent with your brand rather than straying away or showing things that just don't go together. Use your brand or company name in hashtags: the hashtags that you pick don't have to be complicated. If you already have a pretty good following on Instagram, or your brand name is well known, go ahead and use this as one of your hashtags. This will make it easier for your followers to find you because they can just search the name and find some of your posts. Make a follower famous: it is not just about your followers checking out your posts, it is about how you interact with your followers. Take the time to look over the pages of your followers and then like and share some of their posts. This helps to show the customers that you really appreciate them because you are acknowledging their cool posts and sharing them with others on your page. Be careful with this one though because some may be personal and you should always ask for permission beforehand if you are unsure whether they would like it shared or not. So, if you are ready to learn more, then let us get started immediately!
